The science fiction writer, Frederic Brown, is credited to write the shortest story in the world in 1948, which he called "Knock". The story was this: "The last man on Earth sat alone in a room. There was a ~~knock~~ knock on the door." The story paved the way to a new fashion of writing very short stories. Nowadays there are hundreds of collections of such pieces of writing. The World's Shortest Stories of Love and Death by Steve ~~Mass~~ Mass is ~~one~~ one of them.

The World's Shortest: Stories of Love and Death contains winners of the 55 Fiction contest. All the stories in this book are written with at most 55 words. Each piece of writing has at least one character, a setting, a conflict and a ~~resolution~~ resolution.

It stories in it teach important lessons. That is exactly why it is on the list of my favourite books. In my opinion, The World's Shortest Stories of Love and Death is a must-read for everyone who wants to gain life experience.

If you decide to read this book, I strongly recommend you to pay attention to symbols, ~~and names~~. They can help you to understand the deeper meaning of a story. It is also a good idea to read each piece of writing at least twice to make sure that you remember the message behind it.

All in all, if you want to learn more about life or just spend your free time with pleasure, you definitely need to read The World's Shortest Stories of Love and Death.
